Captured British Passenger Ship Sails Into Hampton Roads

BRINGS WORD OF RAIDER

Crews of Five Vessels Transferred from German Commerce Destroyer to Appam

ENGAGE TRADER IN BATTLE

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 1.—Given up for lost days ago the British passenger liner Appam, plying in the West African trade, sailed like an apparition into Hampton Roads today, flying the German naval ensign and with her ship's company under guard of a German prize crew. She brought word of a mysterious German commerce raider, the Moewe, which had been seen in the Atlantic and had on board the crews of seven British merchantmen and admiralty transports captured by the Moewe before she seized the Appam and started her across the Atlantic for an American port with Lieutenant Hans Berge of the German naval reserve and twenty-two men in charge. The Appam now lies off Old Point Comfort, under the guns of Fort Monroe, waiting for the state department at Washington to determine her status—whether she is a man of war, subject to internment or a German prize. By tomorrow the customs authorities here hope to have orders to send the ship either to Norfolk or Newport News, where the anxiously waiting British civilians will be put ashore.

Captured Appam January 16. According to the story told with great reserve by Lieutenant Berge to Collector Hamilton when he formally reported his presence in American territorial waters late today, the Moewe captured the Appam, bound from Dakar, French West Africa, for Liverpool, after a brief show of resistance on January 16, sixty miles north of the Madeira islands. On board the Moewe were the crews of five vessels, previously captured, all of whom were transferred to the Appam.

From all reports the raider is a converted German merchantman with a false canvas forecastle concealing a battery of guns of fairly large caliber. On January 17 she engaged in battle an Australian trader, the Clan MacTavish, which she sank after an exciting combat with a loss of fifteen men killed on the Clan MacTavish. The Appam, which was ten miles away at the time, in charge of the prize crew, steamed hurriedly back to the scene and rescued four members of the crew of the sinking Clan MacTavish struggling in the water.

Parts Company With Moewe. Later under orders from the commander of the raider, Lieutenant Berge headed his prize for American port and parted company with the Moewe. Nothing has been seen or heard of the raider since and the Appam steamed across the ocean, reaching the Virginia capes at 5:45 this morning.

On board the Appam all told are 452 persons—the prize crew of 25; 29 German civilians who were on their way to England for internment; 158 seamen, captured with the British ships; 116 passengers on the Appam and the Appam's crew of 155.

Lieutenant Berge claims the Appam is a prize of war, but government officials have not yet accepted this view. She had one mounted rifle aboard when captured, but this was removed by the Moewe and there were no guns aboard when she reached port, except small arms carried by the prize crew.

Sends Five Ships to Bottom. On January 10 the Moewe captured and sank the British steamship Farrington, carrying 500 tons of copper ore. Later on the same day she captured the British steamship Corbridge with a cargo of 6,000 tons of coal. The Moewe did not sink the vessel, but sent a crew aboard and held her as a collier. The British admiralty transport Bromby, was captured and sank on January 12. The same day the raider destroyed the British steamship Arthur, carrying 8,000 tons of general cargo and the admiralty transport Trader, with 6,000 tons of sugar. On the fifteenth the British steamer Ariadne was sent to the bottom with her cargo of 5,000 tons of wheat. January 16 the biggest prize of all, the liner Appam, appeared, carrying 8,000 tons of general merchandise, including a large quantity of cocoa. One or two shots were fired at the Appam, but there was no real fight.

The Moewe approached the liner flying the British ensign and exchanged salutes with her. When she was close enough to cross the Appam's bow she ran up the German flag and lowered the false forecastle, disclosing her armament. No one knows where the Moewe came from, except the prize crew aboard the Appam, nor where she went after the battle with the Clan MacTavish.

TWO SHIPS COLLIDE AT SEA NEAR CAPE RACE

WIRELESS MESSAGES DO NOT DISCLOSE IDENTITY OF VESSELS

One Steamer Is Said to Be Sinking—Other, Stating She Is Badly Smashed, Is Standing by—Messages Are Very Fragmentary.

Boston, Feb. 1.—Wireless messages indicating a collision at sea near Cape Race, N. F., were picked up by several stations on the New England coast late tonight. The identity of the vessels was not disclosed. One was said to be sinking. The other ship, stating that she was badly smashed, sent word she would stand by.

The steamer signing "W. L. A." believed to be the Silver Shell, later tonight reported "We are not dangerously damaged."

The vessel which reported herself sinking sent a message signed "J. S. D." saying "Room full of water."

This was believed to refer to the dynamo room.

According to wireless authorities this signature should belong to a Japanese vessel, other signs of the same group being identified with ships of the Osaka Mercantile company.

The position of the steamers was given in the vicinity of Cape Race, N. F. The messages which were very fragmentary, indicated that the "W. L. A." was sending lifeboats to the other ship.

Soon after there came to listening stations on this coast a low powered succession of signals which spelled out: "I am sinking; come and save me."

Fear Steamer Has Sunk.

Halifax, Feb. 1.—The vessel in collision with the American tank steamer Silver Shell off Cape Race tonight was the Japanese steamer Takata Maru bound from London to New York. Wireless messages from the Silver Shell late tonight state that it was feared that the Japanese steamer had sunk. The steamer Armonia was standing by the Silver Shell which was badly damaged.

Several hundred people are reported marooned near Douglas. Another levee has broken there. The Bay Queen carried provisions sufficient to last ten days and is expected to try to reach Douglas.

The Steamer Lightwood today began rescuing marooned families further down the river at Red Fork. Several breaks in the levees on the lower Arkansas were reported between Cummins and Red Fork one of them two miles wide. Flood waters have swept across the lowlands of Lincoln, Drew, Ashley, DeSha and Chicot counties of Arkansas and down into northern Louisiana. While the White river flood is from 10 feet to 15 feet deep in the business streets of Newport, the situation there has no danger.

The break in the levee at Newport had been expected. Two thirds of the 3,500 inhabitants had left. Those who remained moved their possessions to safe places.

With clear, cold weather today floods began subsiding rapidly in the upper reaches of both the Arkansas and White rivers.

Newport Is Flooded.

Newport, Ark., Feb. 1.—With the Jacksonport levee out the Rock Island levee broken in two places and water pouring over the Rock Island cracks from the overflow of White river into Newport Lake, this city today was experiencing its second disastrous flood in the last six months.

Water already is from 2 to 6 feet deep in the main business section and the few people who remain in the city are making their journeys in boats and rafts. The current in the streets is from 8 to 10 miles an hour. There will be no shortage of food, little suffering, according to officials.

The early flood warnings received here led residents to take every precaution against hunger and cold.

Livestock have been picketed on high ground. It is not believed the animal loss will be large unless water forces out the tracks of the Iron Mountain railroad between White River and the city which act as a dam against the stream. The water now is lapping the tracks and has completely soaked the road bed. Between 300 and 500 men are strengthening the levees.

Wabash River Threatens Destruction Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 1.—The Wabash river with a stage of more than six feet above the danger mark at Terre Haute, was threatening heavy destruction from LaFayette to its source tonight. Hundreds of families in the Wabash bottom lands were driven from their homes today. In West Terre Haute the schools were closed. Many mines in the vicinity also are forced to suspend operations. At Vincennes and at Grayville, Ill., the situation is serious according to reports. Evansville expressed little fear of damage from the Ohio river.

Temperatures of 12 degrees checked the flood waters in many sections.

Mississippi at Quincy Falling. Quincy, Ill., Feb. 1.—The Mississippi river at this point has been falling steadily since Saturday when it reached the high point for January. In four days it has dropped three feet.

In eastern Missouri the Fabius rivers have overflowed the bottom lands and residents have gone to higher ground. No serious damage is reported other than a few small bridges being washed away. The temperature at 6 p. m. was 12 degrees.

FLOODS INUNDATE MANY RIVER TOWNS

Levees Along Arkansas and White Rivers Begin to Give Way

THOUSANDS HOMELESS

Most Threatening Situation Appears to Be at the State Convict Farm Near Cummins

CONVICTS' POSITION PERILOUS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 1.—Levees along the Arkansas and White rivers in Eastern Arkansas began to give way today and flood waters caused widespread property damage. Many river towns and villages and miles of lowland and farms were inundated several thousand persons driven from their homes.

The most threatening situation tonight appeared to be at the state convict farm near Cummins where between 300 and 400 negro prisoners were huddled on the remains of the broken Arkansas river levee. Their position is perilous. Other prisoners at the farm were removed early today and the Steamer Bay Queen left Pine Bluff this afternoon in an effort to rescue those remaining. The swift current and the swollen condition of the river makes the trip hazardous.

Several hundred people are reported marooned near Douglas. Another levee has broken there. The Bay Queen carried provisions sufficient to last ten days and is expected to try to reach Douglas.

The Steamer Lightwood today began rescuing marooned families further down the river at Red Fork. Most of the trouble in this section was due to cold as telegraph and telephone wires snapped and many poles gave way. Train service to St. Louis was badly crippled by floods in the Ozarks.

Back water from the Mississippi caused damage to some farm property on the Illinois side north of East St. Louis.

PRESIDENT VOICES FAITH IN PEOPLE

States He Knows the Heart of All America Is In the Cause of Peace

ADDRESSES LARGE CROWD

Assertion That Nations Self-Respect Must Be Preserved Elicits Great Demonstration

CLOSES WITH TRIBUTE TO FLAG

DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 1.—"Do you want the situation to be such that all the president can do is to write messages and utter words of protest?" asked President Wilson here tonight in advocating preparedness before the largest audience of his present trip.

"Why, to ask that question is to answer it," he said. "Whenever international law is violated by one or the other belligerents," the president said, "America was called upon to register a voice of protest of insistence."

"Do you want the situation to be such that all the president can do is to write messages and utter words of protest?" If these breaches of international law which are daily in danger of occurring should touch the very honor of the United States, do you wish to do nothing about it? Do you wish to have all the world say that the flag of the United States that we have can be stained with impunity? Why, to ask the question is to answer it.

"I know there is not a man or woman within the hearing of my voice who would wish peace at the expense of the honor of the United States." The president's address was punctuated with thunderous applause. He spoke slowly and gravely, with emphatic gestures to enforce his words. His declaration that the United States wanted peace drew a quick response and his assertion that the self-respect of the nation must be preserved elicited another great demonstration.

Throng of 8,000 Cheers.

A throng of 8,000 persons cheered him to the echo. The president declared he was trying to convey fully every word he said. He reiterated that he had been daily charged to keep the country out of war and also to uphold its honor.

"And many a night when it has seemed impossible for me to sleep," he said, "because of the apparently insurmountable difficulties into which our international relations were drifting, I have said to myself, 'I wonder if the people of the United States fully know what that mandate means to me.' And then sleep came, because I knew that there was not a community in America that would not stand behind me in maintaining the honor of the United States. The difficulty of keeping America at peace during this titanic struggle across the sea cannot be disclosed now, perhaps it never can be disclosed. How anxious and how difficult this task has been. But my heart has been in it. I have not regarded a single burden that has been placed upon me with that end in view. For I know that not only my heart, but the heart of all America was in the cause of peace."

There are actually men in America who are preaching war, the president declared; men who want the United States to have entangling alliances abroad. He said he did not think they spoke the voice of America, which he declared to be for peace. He added that others go further than he in advocating peace. "They preach the doctrine of peace at any price," he added, while men in the audience called, "never, never!"

He said these men did not know the circumstances of the world.

"America cannot be an ostrich with its head in the sand," he said. The president declared he hoped if this war had no other result it would create an international tribunal to settle questions which cause war. His declaration that he had found the people of the middle west for preparedness drew long applause.

"Some one who does not know our fellow citizens as well as he ought to know them told me there was a certain degree of indifference and lethargy in the middle west with regard to the defense of the nation," he declared. "I said I did not believe it, but was going out to see—have seen what I expected to see—great bodies of serious men and women coming together to show their interest in the object of my visit."

Closes With Tribute to Flag.

The president closed with a tribute to the American flag. "As I look at that flag," he said, "I seem to see many characters upon it which are not visible to the physical eye. There seem to be ghostly visions of devoted men who looking to that flag thought only of liberty, of the rights of mankind, of the mission of America to show the way to the world for the realization of those rights. And every grave of every brave man in the country would seem to have upon it the colors of the flag. If he were a true American—he would seem to have on that stain of red which means the true pulse of blood; that patch of pure white which means the peace of the country, and there seems to rise over the graves of those men and to hallow their memories that blue space of the sky in which swim those stars which exemplify for us the glorious galaxy of the states of the union which stand together to vindicate the rights of mankind."

RAINEY TO PILOT TARIFF COMMISSION MEASURE

INTRODUCES ADMINISTRATION BILL IN HOUSE

Provides for Commission of Five With Widest Authority to Investigate Conditions in the United States and Abroad.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The administration tariff commission bill was introduced in the house today by Representative Rainey of Illinois, ranking Democratic member of the ways and means committee who will have charge of it. It provides for a commission of five members with the widest authority to investigate tariff conditions in the United States and abroad, but without the power of recommending rates or schedules. The commission would be required to report to the president, the senate finance committee or the house ways and means committee and also from time to time voluntarily to congress when new conditions arise affecting tariffs. Each commissioner would receive an annual salary of $12,000 and not more than three should be members of the same political party.

Representative Rainey said the bill had received President Wilson's approval and would be brought before a Democratic house caucus for approval. He declared the powers given the commission which would include authority to compel submission of papers to show cost of production was the widest that could possibly be conferred without delegating legislative functions. The war, he said, had rendered valueless most of the tariff information compiled by congressional committees and a tariff commission was needed, for one thing, "in order to prepare ourselves for the approaching revision of the German tariff."

SERIOUSLY CONSIDER REPEAL OF EMERGENCY REVENUE LAW

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Repeal of the emergency revenue law is being seriously considered by administration leaders in congress. Many members of the committees having jurisdiction over fiscal affairs have decided continuance of the emergency law no longer is necessary.

Chairman Simmons of the senate finance committee who will have much to do with framing the revenue program, is among those who hold this view. He has suggested that available revenues can be procured from incomes, inheritances, sugar and war munitions with possibly slight increases in the taxes on liquors and similar staples subject to internal revenue taxation.

SUBMARINE K-5 IS SAFE AND PROCEEDING FOR KEY WEST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The submarine K-5 is safe and proceeding under her own steam for Key West, Fla., according to a naval wireless message received at the navy department early today from Captain Simpson of the torpedo boat destroyer Starrett.

The message, which came by way of Key West, said:

"At 3:55 a. m., K-5 five miles southeast Fowey Rock steaming south at ten knots. No casualties and no assistance required."

PRESIDENT'S TRAIN BACKS INTO CROWD OF THREE THOUSAND

GRINNELL, Ia., Feb. 1.—President Wilson's special train backed into a crowd of 3,000 persons at the railway station today and knocked down half a dozen children, several of whom fell under the train and between the rails. They were dragged out unhurt before the wheels reached them.

The president was on the back platform at the time, just about to shake the hands of a baby helped up to him by its mother.

The president shouted, "stop that train." National guardsmen and secret service men threw back the crowd which had swarmed over the tracks. Most of those directly in the path of the train were women and children. They were unceremoniously thrown back but saved from injury.

The engineer, it was said, was backing his engine preparatory to starting and did not know that the crowd was so close to the platform where the president was standing. The train backed fully twenty feet before it was brought to a stop.

KANSAS CITY GETS TWO CHICAGO PLAYERS.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—Two more Chicago players have been added to the roster of the Kansas City club of the American association. They were Jack (Red) Murray, last year with the old Cubs, and Charles Hanford with the Chicago Federals last season. Both are outfielders and were purchased from President Veeghman by Danny Shay, manager of the Kansas City club. The purchase price was not announced.

FRENCH REPULSE GERMAN ASSAULT

Artillery Duels and Bombardments Predominate On Western Front

ITALIANS CHECK ATTACK

Petrograd Reports Teutons Have Been Worst in Several Infantry Engagements

RUSS STILL PURSUING TURKS

Except for a German infantry attack northeast of Arras, which was checked by a fusillade of hand grenades thrown by the French, artillery duels and bombardments have predominated on the western front.

A single infantry attack near Monte Rombon where the Italians repulsed the Austrians is the most important operation aside from the usual artillery actions reported from the Austro-Italian front.

From Riga to the Stripa river there has been several infantry engagements in which the Austro-Germans were worsted by the Russians according to Petrograd but the fighting on this front also has been mostly with the big guns.

The Caucasus around Lake Tatum and Khryskal the Russians are declared to be still pursuing the Turks.

Reports received in London announce that satisfactory progress is being made by the British and French forces operating against Germans in East and West Equatorial Africa.

In Montenegro and around Scutari in Albania the situation is quiet.

Four-fifths of Troops Under Arms

Petrograd, Feb. 1.—Via London —In connection with the negotiations which are alleged to be proceeding between Greece and Roumania and the report that Roumania is ready to form an anti-Bulgarian alliance, it is stated here that four-fifths of the Roumanian troops are under arms and that the main Roumanian forces are concentrated on the Bulgarian and Hungarian frontiers, while the troops on the Russian frontier have not been increased. Roumania continues to make difficulties for the central powers with respect to the purchase of grain. With the purpose of exerting pressure on Roumania, Austro-Bulgarian troops are concentrating on the Danube.

According to information from Constantinople the Turkish government has ordered the evacuation of Erzerum.

London, Feb. 1.—Fifty-four persons were killed and 67 injured when Zeppelins dropped 220 bombs in last night's raid on territory in the heart of the industrial district of mid-England.

An official statement issued this evening says the raid covered a larger area than on any previous occasion.

Berlin, Feb. 1.—By Wireless to Sayville—The German admiralty's report in the Zeppelin raid of England says that incendiary bombs were dropped on and near Liverpool, Birkenhead, Manchester, Nottingham, Sheffield and Great Yarmouth. Violent fires occurred. All the airships returned in safety.

CLARKE CALLS ON WILSON.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 1.—Governor Clarke was one of President Wilson's first callers at the hotel today. They shook hands cordially and Governor Clarke's staff was introduced. The lobby was thronged and an orchestra played patriotic music. This is the first time on the president's trip that the general public has been permitted in the lobby of the hotel.

FIRE ENDANGERS THREE HUNDRED.

Kansas City, Feb. 1.—Fire that broke out on the second floor of the Western Union Telegraph company's building today endangered the lives of three hundred employees at work in the operating room. Fifty of whom were carried down fire escapes to safety. At 2:10 o'clock the blaze was under control and all employees had been safely accounted for.

A Spectacular Achievement.

A new cause for admiring the prowess of Germany's naval forces has come with the spectacular arrival of the British liner Appam off Hampton Roads, manned by a German prize crew. The story which is thus told almost passes belief and indicates that while the German navy has supposedly been swept from the seas that at least one raider is still afloat, following unaccustomed sea paths, looking for enemy ships to "devour." The success with which this daring expedition has met is best proven by the record of seven ships sunk and another captured, which the crew of the mysterious raider has manifested is worthy of any nation and no other naval accomplishment of the war has been recorded which equals it.

A Good Year's Record.

The report presented by Secretary Weber at the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night answered in a very complete and effective way the question which is sometimes asked, "what is the Chamber of Commerce doing?" The organization fills a large place in the business and civic life of the community and the past year its activities have been especially helpful.

It is gratifying to note that the year has been closed with a clear record and all obligations met. Mr. Weber has been a competent, efficient secretary, not lacking in tact or initiative and he has helped in a large way to make the organization what it is.

Juggling Postal Figures.

Congressman Frederick H. Gillett of Massachusetts, said recently: "There is one singular incident in connection with the annual estimates which attracted my attention. The secretary of the treasury in his annual report states that the postal revenues will probably amount to $216,000,000, with expenditures for the postal service for the same period under existing laws of $221,000,000. But the estimates for the postoffice appropriation bill were only $216,000,000, and I wondered where that balance of $5,000,000 was taken care of, and I finally found it tucked away in the estimates for permanent appropriations. There is no precedent for placing it there. Why was not the postoffice bill estimated at $221,000,000 instead of $216,000,000? Why was that $5,000,000 hidden under permanent appropriations? I can think

SANTA FRICK.

While Christmas shoppers, rank on rank, were thronging to the stores, the head push of a Pittsburgh bank quite calmly closed its doors. Some forty thousand children had their savings treasured there, and many a little girl and lad was filled with black despair. "Perhaps," the urbane cashier cried, "in seven years or so, the grim receivers will divide the assets—I don't know." The heartaick little children wept, their cheeks with tears were soiled, as they wearily their homeward crept—their Christmas time was spoiled. Then Henry Frick reared up and said, "This will not do, I swear; the kids shan't weeping go to bed—they'll have their money now!" Aladdin rubbed his wondrous lamp, in smoky old Pittsburgh, and bade the children's woes decamp, and make their Christmas glad! The children, rescued from the hole by him, no doubt declare: "A man may have a large white soul, even though a millionaire!"

Who Kept Us Out of War?

Only once in the year and a half of European war has this country been in real danger of becoming involved in the conflict. That real crisis occurred when the president almost succeeded in forcing thru the Democratic congress his ship purchase bill. So long as nations at war sank private merchant ships carrying war supplies to other warring nations the controversies that arose were questions which could be settled by negotiation. The United States has never doubted the right of any belligerent to prevent, if it could, the delivery of "contraband" goods to its adversaries. This country exercised that right during the Civil war.

But if the United States had undertaken to carry American goods in government owned ships, as was proposed by this administration—and, moreover, in ships formerly owned by nations at war—those ships would certainly have been captured and destroyed. No one will dispute the assertion that such action would have involved us in the war immediately. The American statesmen who averted the only real and serious crisis—the men who actually kept us out of war—were the Republican senators, aided by seven patriotic Democrats, who prevented the passage of the ship purchase bill.

WALTER S. WHITACRE DEAD AT HIS HOME IN MT. VERNON

Father of Jacksonville Young Man
Passed Away Following a Long Period of Illness.

Summoned by a letter telling of the serious illness of his father, Hume T. Whitacre, a Journal reporter, left Monday afternoon for his home in Mt. Vernon. A telegram Tuesday announced the death of Mr. Whitacre, which occurred Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Walter S. Whitacre was born in Wayne county, Illinois, Dec. 27, 1854, the son of Phineas and Emmaline Scott Whitacre. He attended the schools of the county and the high school at Fairfield, going afterwards to McKendree college. He took a course in Valparaiso Normal University at Valparaiso, Ind., and was for fifteen years a teacher. Mr. Whitacre taught in South Dakota and was for a time employed on a newspaper at Alexandria, then Dakota territory. He was afterwards engaged in business in Fairfield, Ill., but for a number of years has been in bad health and has made his home in Mt. Vernon.

Mr. Whitacre was married Dec. 27, 1887, to Miss Ida Tinsley of Columbus, Ind. To this union were born two children, Miss Vera L. Whitacre of Mt. Vernon and Hume T. Whitacre of this city. There remain three brothers and a sister: Frank G., Curt Whitacre and T. P. Whitacre, all of California, and Mrs. Robert Porter of Fairfield.

Mr. Whitacre was a man of admirable spirit and the burden of his health was borne thru nearly twenty years with fine courage. At the end of the journey he could look back upon a race well run and forward to a larger life.

The funeral will be held at the home in Mt. Vernon today.

COUPLE WHO ELOPED RETURN TO JACKSONVILLE

Harrison Strumb and Miss Anna Donegan, Who Were Married in Quincy Are Now at Home.

Harrison Strumb and Miss Anna Donegan, both of this city, who eloped to Quincy and were married recently have returned to Jacksonville. There was some opposition to the marriage as will be noted from the following taken from the Quincy paper, but forgiveness now abounds and the old saying goes, "they will live happily ever afterward."

"Harrison Strumb and Miss Anna Donegan, both of Jacksonville, who were married the first part of the week after Strumb has falsely sworn that his bride was 18 years of age, will live happily despite the efforts of Mrs. Clerihan, guardian of the girl, who declares she will have Strumb arrested for perjury, for she is opposed to the marriage.

The woman talked to State's Attorney Fred Wolfe yesterday and was at the office of Sheriff Coons, but she evidently has abandoned her intentions, for yesterday she left for her home in Jacksonville, and the young couple have gone to Kansas City for residence. Mrs. Strumb claims to be the guardian of the girl, but the girl's mother, who was also here and unopposed to the marriage, says that Mrs. Clerihan had never legally adopted Mrs. Strumb."

J. E. BABB IDENTIFIED

WITH BIG LAW CASE

Is Chief Counsel for Mining Company in Proceedings Before Utility Commission.

The Mining Review, published at Wallace, Idaho, contains an extended notice about an important power case to be heard before the utilities commission there. James E. Babb, now a leading attorney of Idaho and who is well remembered here as a member of the class of 1882 in Illinois college, was one of the conspicuous figures of the hearing. Mr. Babb is chief counsel for the Federal Mining & Smelting company, and the Federal and the Tamarack-Custer companies brought suit against the Washington Water Power company before the utilities commission. The two companies were represented by a number of prominent attorneys with Mr. Babb as principal. The Mining Review gives this history of the case:

"Issue was joined in August, 1913 when the Washington Water Power company raised the contract rates heretofore paid by the mining companies, the contracts of the Federal and the Tamarack-Custer companies having expired."

"A protest, was filed with the utilities commission and the Washington Water Power company was ordered to maintain the old rates until a final decision could be had. In the meantime the legislature of the state enacted a law empowering the mining companies to bring in power from adjoining states for their own use."

"In accordance with this act the Federal, Hercules, Tamarack-Custer and Interstate allahian companies jointly built a distributing line into Montana to get power from the Thompson Falls company, which generates its power about twenty miles from Burke. Power was turned on July 1, 1915, whereupon the Washington Water Power company reduced the rates for power to other patrons in the district to a point slightly below that received by the mining companies."

"The contention of the Washington Water Power company is broadly that the Federal and Tamarack-Custer companies, or any other mining company in the Coeur d'Alene district, should not be permitted to take power from any lines except that of the Washington Water Power company."

"It is the contention of the mining companies that they have the right to bring in power for their own use."

"As the rates for power vitally effect the great mining industry of the Coeur d'Alene, the rate case will doubtless occasion a great deal of interest."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WORK IN REVIEW

REPORTS AT ANNUAL MEETING SHOW YEAR OF PROGRESS.

Seven Directors Chosen to Serve for Three Years—Mayor Points to the Need for Bond Issue—Secretary Weber Gave Comprehensive Report Showing the Broad Activities of the Organization.

The annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday night in the assembly room at the Peacock Inn. An excellent dinner was served beginning at 7:30 o'clock and afterward the business session was held. John J. Reeve, president of the Chamber of Commerce, preside and reports were made by Secretary Weber, Mayor H. J. Rodgers, for the department of public affairs; F. H. Bode for the railway committee; Frank Byrns, retail merchants department; F. J. Heintz, rural affairs department; and George Vasconcellos for the young men's department. Other speakers were Mrs. J. H. Danksin, F. J. Andrews and Andrew Russell.

Mr. Weber's report was very comprehensive and indicated extensive and serious work which the Chamber of Commerce has accomplished during the past year. The retiring secretary was the recipient of a great many compliments for the work that he has done and in addition to these compliments was given a rising vote of thanks on motion of Mr. Russell.

Directors Elected.

The term of office of seven directors having expired, the following were chosen to serve for a three year term, W. J. Brady, T. M. Tomlinson, J. W. Walton, J. R. Harker, H. M. Capps, Carl H. Weber and W. S. Ehnie.

The Hittie orchestra furnished a musical program which added very materially to the enthusiasm of the occasion, the company at various times joining in singing some patriotic air. The cigars for the smokers were furnished by courtesy of F. J. Andrews, former president of the organization and he had boxes of candy sent to Mrs. Danksin and Mrs. Hollinger, the only ladies present.

Mayor Rodgers in reporting for his department, made reference to the proposed city bond issue which is for the development of the water and light departments of the city and the establishment of a central heating plant.

As the program was to be quite long, President Reeve did not make an extended address but rather chose to introduce each speaker in a fitting way. Mr. Reeve said that the function of the Chamber of Commerce is to promote community interest and declared that this interest here has grown and gives promise that at no distant day it will include all the confines of Morgan county. The best city ideals, President Reeve said, come where the residents recognize the value of doing something for each other.

Department Chairmen Report.

Mayor H. J. Rodgers then presented the report for his department which is printed in full elsewhere. F. H. Bode of the railway department, told of the efforts to secure a better freight classification for Jacksonville from eastern points and said that there is good reason for the belief that some time during 1916 the matter can be presented to the interstate commerce commission in a favorable way. It is estimated that merchants of Jacksonville and consequently the people, are now paying out $50,000 a year more in freights than should be the case.

The report of Frank Byrns, chairman of the retail merchants' committee, was read by Secretary Weber in the unavoidable absence of Mr. Byrns. Mr. Weber also read the report of Frank J. Heintz, chairman of the department of rural affairs, after Mr. Reeve had said that this department had come to include some of the most important work of the organization.

The chairman called for George Vasconcellos to tell of the work of the young men's department' and then commenting on the work of Secretary Weber, said that his going into other work took from the Chamber of Commerce an officer who had been splendid in initiative and indefatigable in activity. A portion of Mr. Weber's very comprehensive report appears below.

Other Speakers.

Mrs. J. H. Danksin was introduced as a representative of the Civic League and referred to the sanitary work which women hope to undertake at no distant day in conformity with plans which the city commissioners have under consideration. Mrs. Danksin said the women were ready to serve without pay and all that they wished was the co-operation of male citizens.

F. J. Andrews was introduced as a former president of the Chamber of Commerce and one who had been active in good works. Mr. Andrews said that he did not intend to make an extended talk but referred to the high regard he had for the organization and said that he considered it an important part of the civil life of Jacksonville.

Andrew Russell was the next speaker and declared that Mr. Weber's report was the most comprehensive that he had ever heard. The speaker referred to the important work which the Chamber of Commerce is doing and said that he would be glad to aid in any way possible.

The tellers appointed to canvass the vote for directors were Jay Rodgers, George Vasconcellos, J. I. Graham, Lloyd Reid and J. Allerton Palmer and the canvass of the vote was submitted to President Reeve and read. The assemblage was then declared adjourned.

SECRETARY WEBER'S REPORT TO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce has passed another milestone and as the Executive Secretary for the past year I am pleased to submit herewith my annual report and to call the attention of the members and the public in general to the large place which this organization has filled in this community during the past twelve months.

The many lines of activity which require mention at this time preclude me from entering upon a general encomium of the Association; suffice it to say in the beginning, that the great cornerstone upon which the Association is founded, and upon which depends all its future success, is the principle of co-operation for the good of the community.

This co-operation, the Secretary has enjoyed during 1915 to a superlative degree and the officers, members and many friends of the Chamber of Commerce have labored enthusiastically and harmoniously together.

The work of the organization is varied and far reaching. Every movement tending to further the various interests of the community should receive, and have received its vital impress. In addition, there are many lines of work which are carried on day by day, that affect the material interests of its particular members alone.

Special Membership Benefits.
For the benefit of its members the Association maintains an efficient credit rating department with over fifteen thousand names on file. During the past year a special effort has been made to keep this system accurate and strictly down to date. Nearly eighteen hundred accurate ratings have been given out upon request of the members and many new names have been added to those already on file. Thus, the interests of the merchants who extend credit and of the honest citizens who desire credit are alike protected. Many thousands of dollars are saved to the members annually by the use of this system.

The Merchants Free Transportation Department is also a vital factor in the commercial life of the community. Many persons living in towns and communities from ten to fifty miles away from Jacksonville take advantage of the inducements offered by the retailers thru this bureau, and in 1915 1916 hundred and twenty two railroad fares have been refunded. Likewise, over three hundred out of town buyers have applied for and have received the advantages of the Free Parcel Checking system.

An active and constructive advertising campaign has been carried on in the press of the surrounding towns with the object of widening the trading territory of the city. Display advertisements proclaiming the distinct advantages of Jacksonville as "The Great Retail Trade Center" have been carried in twelve of the country papers and liberal space, both paid and free, has been used in the two local papers for the same purpose. Many articles descriptive of Jacksonville have been written and supplied to various trade papers, magazines and newspapers through Illinois and adjoining states; and the Secretary has assisted in the promotion and production of several reels of motion pictures for use in advertising the city. Concrete results have been noted in response to this publicity and the new communities which have been opened up and educated to trade in Jacksonville should receive careful attention in the future.

Boulevard Lights.
A splendid achievement of the Chamber of Commerce to which the Secretary directs special attention is the installation of a system of Boulevard Lighting in the business districts. Ninety-two ornamental standards were erected at a cost of fifty three hundred dollars. This amount was solicited by the Secretary and the System was installed under his direction and supervision. Probably no movement in later years has touched the more responsive chord in Jacksonville, and, as a beautifying and advertising medium it is unquestionably without an equal.

Utilities Rate Hearing.
One of the important pieces of work undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce, thru its Public Affairs Department, has been the Gas and Electric Rate Hearing before the Public Utilities Commission. This case was brought in the names of Dr. Edward Bowe, a member of the Public Affairs Committee, and Dr. E. F. Baker, one of Jacksonville's public spirited citizens and a co-worker with the Chamber of Commerce.

The object of trying this case and the exhaustive analysis of the situation which has resulted, is to reach a clear ground of understanding as to a reasonable rate for the service rendered by the local utilities company, and to banish for all times, misunderstanding and friction between the citizens and the company. It is the general opinion that lower rates will be established on both electricity and gas which will result in a saving of thousands of dollars annually to the consumers, and which will also probably prove a boon to the Utilities Company by inducing a vast number of new customers to become users at the lower rate. Untiring and self-sacrificing work has been rendered in this hearing by the gentlemen whose names have been mentioned and by Chairman Rodgers and President Reeve, the latter, having devoted freely a vast amount of time and legal services to its solution.

No doubt all interests in the city will be glad when a mutual understanding is thus secured, as the Utilities Company is one of the city's chief industries, having a considerable investment and employing a large number of men. They should receive hearty support and should be encouraged to expand in connection with the other industries in the city of which we are rightly proud.

The report then reviewed the several celebrations the organization has promoted; the work being done in aiding the good roads movement; assistance given in local campaigns for funds; interest created in street paving; mention of various co-operative efforts. The financial report showed that $11,303 has been collected and disbursed during the year and that the year closes with all bills paid.

EXPRESSMAN CONFESSES.
Mount Pleasant, Iowa, Feb. 1.—Oscar Bruhn, Adams Express driver who is charged by the police with having stolen $2,200 from the railroad station here about a week ago is under arrest in Salt Lake City and has made a full confession, according to police advices received here today. The message said Bruhn had waived extradition and will be brought back here for trial immediately.

DILLON TO BOX MORAN.
Chicago, Feb. 1.—Jack Dillon of Indianapolis today accepted an offer to box Frank Moran, the Pittsburgh heavyweight, ten rounds in Milwaukee next month.

SPRINGFIELD DEFEATS DECATUR
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 1.—Springfield high school here tonight defeated Decatur high school at basketball by a score of 19 to 12.

EDWIN L. THACKER AND WIFE ARE BEING HELD AT BARBADOS ISLANDS
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 1.—Governor Dunne today received word from Secretary of State Lansing that Edwin L. Thacker, alias R. C. Fuller, is being held at Barbadoes Islands together with his wife.

Extradition papers will be issued for the return of Thacker to Chicago where he is wanted on a charge of stealing and embezzling $10,000. Thacker sailed from New York Jan. 22 and Governor Dunne asked the state department to have the man detained at his destination.

GERMANS BRING LINER INTO PORT
Apparently all the operations re-acted by the arrival of the Appam took place in the vicinity of the Canary islands.

Reached Virginia Coast Monday.
The Appam arrived off the Virginia coast some time Monday, but dared not venture in until darkness fell, and it was near daylight today when she appeared between the capes. She did not sight a single British or French man-of-war from the time she parted company with the Moewe until she entered Hampton Roads. She is said to have flown the British flag until she reached the three mile limit.

When the Appam dropped anchor in Hampton Roads she was boarded by the quarantine officer and given a clean bill of health. Soon afterward Lieutenant Berge came ashore and called upon German Consul Von Shilling and together they went to the office of Col. Haynes, commandant of Fort Monroe, to pay an official call. The commander then reported by telephone the arrival of the vessel to Collector Hamilton of the Norfolk-Newport News district, and later he came to Norfolk and made a statement of facts to Mr. Hamilton for transmission to the Washington officials.

Mr. Hamilton accepted the lieutenant's word as a naval officer that he would not attempt to move the liner from her anchorage or permit anyone to come ashore, pending further instructions.

Mr. Hamilton accepted the lieutenant's word as a naval officer that he would not attempt to move the liner from her anchorage or permit anyone to come ashore, pending further instructions.

Takes on Quantity of Stores.
Lieutenant Berge said the Appam arrived short of both fuel and provisions and that there was not enough food aboard to last thru tomorrow. Mr. Hamilton gave permission to take on a quantity of stores tonight.

Among those aboard are fifteen women and many children, the exact number of which has not been determined.

Sir Edward Meriweather, governor of Sierra Leone, a British province in West Africa, and his wife are passengers. There are also several officers of the British army and navy.

News of Raider Startles Washington
Washington, Feb. 1.—A German raider, loose on the seas, with a known record of seven enemy's ships sunk and another captured at a time when the German naval flag was believed to have been swept from the ocean except for the submarines, is the most startling feature that attracts attention here to the capture of the British liner Appam and her daring dash across the Atlantic to a haven at Hampton Roads.

American naval officers who have not been reluctant to admit the exploits of German sailors agree that the cruise of the Appam and the operations of the mysterious raider which took her prisoner, deserve a place in the naval history of the war beside the consummate daring of the Emden, the cruises of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich and the Kron Prinz Wilhelm and probably beside the untold story of the Karlsruhe.

Shipping Faces New Danger.
While the mysterious raider remains at liberty avoiding the travelled lanes of the liners or taking refuge in unsailed waters and picking off a prize when the guarding lines of British cruisers are not near, the allied shipping faces a new and unexpected danger.

Until it is decided whether German commander aboard the British Steamer Appam brought the ship to an American port as a prize of war or as a converted auxiliary cruiser of the German navy there will be no determination of the American government's course respecting the ship.

When certain formalities have been completed with the ship's passengers, including several British colonial officials, will be realized and their disposition passed upon by immigration officers. Any prisoners of war will be released because international law permits no holding of war prisoners in a neutral country.

Will Have to Deal With Crew.
The United States then, finally, will have to deal with the German crew under Lieutenant Berge, and if they are accounted in the naval service of Germany as were the crews of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich and the Kron Prinz Wilhelm, already interned at the Norfolk navy yard, they too will be interned unless their ship goes to sea to run the cordon of British cruisers outside.

As to the disposition of the Appam herself, if she is held to be an auxiliary cruiser, her commander will have the option of putting to sea after certain time to make repairs and take provisions. If she is declared a prize the situation becomes more complex.

The possibility that a German submarine accompanied the captured British liner Appam across the Atlantic and was preparing to operate off the American coast aroused much interest among navy officials here. No information tending to confirm reports to that effect had reached the department, but officials pointed out that so far as cruising radius of modern submarines is concerned the operation would be entirely possible.

MANCHESTER GIVES DEFEAT TO WHITE HALL IN BASKETBALL

Scott County Team Has Not Lost a Scheduled Game This Season.

It is when two good fast teams encounter that the expectations of the fans are filled with greatest enthusiasm and surely there was high enthusiasm in the game between the Manchester high school's stars and the Big 5 of the Whitehall school on the latter's floor last Friday night. Each team was "pepped" to the highest and not only had high confidence in their own strength but also in that of the opponent. Each team played fast ball, but during the first half Whitehall was unable to score while the Manchester bunch scored eleven points. The game resulted in a score of 14 to 11 in favor of Manchester.

Prof. Smith of Whitehall and Prof. Wallace of Roodhouse acted as umpire and referee and undoubtedly all got a square deal.

Lincoln: Whitehall—Hyle, Vandaveer, Hyle, Bowen and Bridgewater. Manchester—F. Sloan and Antrobus; C. Jasper; G. Correa and Lakin.

In their schedule thus far Manchester has never lost a game.

FEEDING HOGS FOR PROFIT

We now realize some of the reasons why corn does not prove acceptable to the growing pig. Let us extricate ourselves from the "corn alone" plight by looking to:

What are the essentials of an ideal supplement?

It so happens that those superior supplements which are adapted to balancing corn are also best for barley, wheat, sorghum seed, kafir corn, milo-maize, rye and other carbohydrates or starchy farm grains. The ideal supplement to corn therefore is likewise the ideal one for these other grains.

The most effective supplement should have:

1. A high protein content. There should be as few pounds of carbohydrate to a pound of protein as possible.

2. Protein of the best possible quality, that is, complete in the necessary protein building stones. Meat proteins are generally more effective than vegetable proteins, pound for pound. Milk proteins are superior. A variety of feeds helps to vary the amino-acid or building stones of protein, so that there will be a greater likelihood of an abundance of all; likewise there is a much better chance that the right sort of mixture of amino-acids be present. There is possible an optimum mixture of amino-acids or protein building stones in the feeding ration just as there is the possibility of a "best mixture" of gas and air in the carburetor of the automobile to make it run more efficiently; each set of conditions demands a particular mixture which best meets the needs of the animal which consumes feed as well as the machine that depends for its "go" upon gasoline.

3. An abundance of mineral nutrients, especially of calcium in which most grains, especially the cereals or corns, tend to be somewhat deficient. A good phosphorus content is quite desirable.

It is reasonable to suppose that calcium will give results when added to the corn ration, which it has done in some Iowa experiments, as corn is especially lacking in this important mineral element, which comprises 40 per cent of the dry ash of bone. Calcium furnishes 70 per cent of the basal elements of bone, 29 1-2 per cent being supplied by phosphorus and 1-2 per cent by magnesium. In the normal human body there is just about two-thirds as much calcium as nitrogen, that fundamental element of protein concerning which we hear so much and upon which a maximum of emphasis is invariably placed by feeding experts and dietitians. It is not to be gainsaid that the lack of protein is the more conspicuous deficiency in ordinary grain diets, but nevertheless the calcium deserves among the mineral nutrients considerably more attention than is now accorded.

4. An alkaline or sweetening ash, so as to counteract the acids produced in the digestion and assimilation of the supplemented grains.

5. More fat than ordinary grains or about 6 to 8 or perhaps 10 per cent. The hog can use more fat to advantage than is ordinarily found in corn or the small grains.

Then too we note that there is a difference in the quality of fats as there is in proteins. The very recent 1914 and 1915 experiments of McCollum of the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Station and Mendel of Yale, and Osborne of the Connecticut Station, show that there is a vast difference in the nutritive values of the different fats. Peculiarly enough they all find that the fat from milk is strikingly efficient in facilitating the recovery of animals that have wasted considerably when the source of fat in the feed was from olive oil, or almond oil, or cotton seed oil, or lard. What is significant from the standpoint of the meat product supplements are the facts concerning the effectiveness of beef oils especially. Here is what Osborne and Mendel say in a recent contribution entitled, "Influence of the Natural Fats Upon Growth":

"To the list of natural fats found to contain the factor efficient in facilitating growth... we... now add beef fat."

The fat which is found in egg yolk is very efficient, ranking alongside the butter fats in producing very favorable results. We would hardly expect beef fat to be as effective, as butter or egg yolk fats, but the fact remains that the beef fat itself has peculiar nutritive properties that make it superior to the vegetable fats investigated to date. McCollum of Wisconsin is the pioneer in demonstrating the big differences in fat qualities, these depending upon the source of the particular fats investigated. Recently (March, 1915) he has shown that the fat from corn is quite efficient, but that that fat from wheat, rye, and oats especially is clearly much less valuable than from maize. Evidently therefore some of the vegetable source feeds contain the active properties so markedly exhibited in butter for feeding. This is rather fortunate.

6. Palatability that is the hogs should relish it, whether fed dry, wet, or mixed with other feeds. The more tasty the feed is the better the hog makes of it; the psychic effects of palatability are reflected in a more efficient digestive utilization of the ration. It is well to remark that that ration which best meets the physiological demands of the animal is the most palatable in reality.

7. Very little carbohydrates or starches. The home-grown hog feeds which form the basis of our hog rations are rich in these materials; hence why buy something which we already have, paying commissions, double haulings, freights and other charges on them?

8. A concentrated character, as contrasted with bulkiness. As much protein and mineral matter should be included in a hundred pounds as possible, the foremost emphasis, of course, being placed upon the protein. A minimum of crude fibre is in order. Skim-milk, whole milk not considered, our greatest natural grain supplement, has no crude fibre whatsoever, pure meat has none, tankage has little. This all means less freight and hauling with marked saving of labor; furthermore, it means you are buying just exactly what you need.

9. Laxativeness. Corn fed alone is constipating. What we want, therefore, is a "loosening" feed supplement. The green forages or pastures, oil meal, meat meal, tankage, skim or whole milk, alfalfa or clover hay and others are superior in this respect.

10. High digestibility. By digestibility we refer to the portion of the feed that the animal is able to use, which means that which is absorbed from the alimentary canal. The difference between that which is fed and that voided in the dung is known as the apparently digestible portion. Milk and soft meat are almost completely digested. Sawdust, grape seeds and corn cobs are comparatively indigestible.

11. Relatively high net production value. Some feeds are digested and assimilated at great conversion cost to the body, leaving net, after subtracting the bodily outlay for all the work done, very little balance. For instance, with sawdust, which by the way is often added to molasses feeds, the animal expends more energy upon it than it releases leaving an actual deficit which must be made good at the expense of other feeds, or of the bodily stores. Peanut hulls, oftentimes called earth nut husks, are almost worthless from this standpoint. Milk, meat and the sugars stand in marked contrast to sawdust and peanut hulls in that they require a minimum of conversional energy—leaving a large net balance.

SHORT COURSE FOR FARMERS BEGINS AT AMES

Various Conferences To Be Held in Connection With Program.

Ames, Iowa, Feb. 1.—Farmers from all sections of the state were still arriving today for the annual short course and "farmers week" at the Iowa State College, which began yesterday. The course will continue until Saturday night, and college authorities expected that from 1,500 to 2,000 men, women, boys and girls would be enrolled.

The course provides class instruction in every phase of agriculture, home-making and several lines of home manufacturing and building industries. Several exhibits including the annual state corn show and a series of evening mass meetings at which addresses will be delivered by men of wide reputation, on good roads, better schools, co-operation, and like subjects are included in the course.

The plans of the college authorities are very elaborate. In animal husbandry, each day will be given over to one phase of live-stock management beginning with sheep and running thru swine, horses, dairy cattle, and closing with beef cattle and a meat demonstration by John Goaling of Kansas City on Friday. Some of the choicest animals in Iowa are to be on exhibit for judging. Poultry work will continue thru out the week.

In farm crops and soils, the authorities plan to give consideration specially to the uppermost problems in the state, including methods of crop management and the uses of fertilizer. Among the speakers of prominence are Director C. E. Thorne of the Ohio experiment station and G. L. Christy of Purdue University. Daily classes will be held in horticulture and forestry, the practical problems of the orchard, farm dairying and farm management.

A number of conventions and conferences to be held during the week include those of the breeders of swine, Shropshire sheep, Aberdeen Angus and Hereford cattle, and dairy cattle; the Iowa Beef Producers Association, the Iowa Agriculture Experiment Association, the Iowa Corn and Small Grain Growers' Association; the Iowa Clay Products Manufacturers Association; Cement Producers Association; the Iowa Permanent Building Society; the Iowa Woman Farmers' Association; and the Iowa Fruit Growers Association. Each conference is to have its own special program of prominent speakers.

THE BANKRUPTCY OF UNBELIEF

Telling Testimony from a French Writer Translated by Rev. F. E. Emrich, D. D.—A Book Review in the Congregationalist.

In the Gothenburg Weekly, a leading journal in Sweden, the following remarkable article appears. The author, Henry Lavedan, is a French dramatist, novelist, publicist, officer of the Legion of Honor and a member of the French academy. The Gothenburg Weekly prefaces the article with this comment:

The renowned French writer, Lavedan, whose pen has had only ridicule and sneers for anything like faith in God, now in an open confession exhorts his people to return to faith in God, as the only sure and firm foundation. Even the most radical papers in France have published this confession. It is a sign of the times and reads thus:

I laughed at faith and considered myself very wise, but now I am not glad for this sneering laugh, for I see France weeping. I stood by the wayside and saw the soldiers. They went out so gladly to meet death. I asked, "What makes them so quiet?" and they began to pray and said, "We believe in God." I looked at the sacrifice of our people and saw how praying people conducted themselves. Then I felt within myself, as if it were something comforting to know a fatherland which shines in love, when the earthly fatherland is glowing in hate. But this now is science, the science of the child, and I am no longer a child. This is my poverty, and it causes me to shudder. A nation must despair if it does not believe that the pain of earth can be exchanged for the joy of heaven, to hope when everything else is sinking.

Who can do that without faith? I stand by the bloody streams of France and see the flood of holy women and doubt. But the old woman from Brittany, whose sons are blowing and who is weeping so that her eyes have become blind—she is praying. How ashamed I am in the presence of this woman. How fearful and burning are the wounds of the people, into which there does not flow some healing balsam, the blood of the Wonderful One.

This Wonderful One—ah! I may not name him. He, who is so good. Am I?—What is to become of France if its children do not believe, if its women do not pray? They will conquer in this war, who have trust in God for their chief weapon. France was great in times gone by, but it was a France with belief. But how is France at the present time? They are now in distress and affliction. The present time knows a France which no longer believes. All its future become better?—By the hand of God. Oh! A nation of dead ones cover the soil! How hard it is in this national cemetery to be an atheist! I cannot. I have deceived myself and you—who have read my books and sung my songs. It was an insane delusion, a fearful dream. I see death and call for life. The armed hands cause death, the clasped hands bring about life.

France, France! Turn back to faith, to the most beautiful days. To give up God would be to lose all. I do not know whether I shall live in the morning, but this must I now say to my friends: "Lavedan does not dare to die an atheist!" Hell does not terrify me, but the thought presses upon me—a God lives, and I stand far from him. My soul shall rejoice if I can experience the hour when upon my knees I can say: "I believe in God! I believe! I believe!" This word is the morning song of humanity. For him who does not know it, night remains.

EAT WITHOUT FEAR OF INDIGESTION OR SOUR, ACID STOMACH

Instant Relief! "Pape's Diapepsin" Ends Your Stomach Trouble Forever.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which cost only fifty cent for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—Adv.

QUAIL DISEASE CAUSING ALARM AMONG OFFICIALS

Prevalence Results in Change in Rules for Entry of Birds From Mexico.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—Owing to the prevalence of quail disease among quail imported from Mexico at the ports of New York, N. Y., and Eagle Pass, Texas, during the past month, the department of agriculture has suspended issue of further permits for entry of these birds this season. Quail in shipments actually en route to the United States on January 20th will be admitted to quarantine, but no further entries will be authorized. Most of the states now have such stringent game laws that it is practically impossible to purchase quail even for propagating purposes in the United States and quailers have sought quail elsewhere, especially in northwestern Mexico where quail occur in abundance, but Mexican quail on arrival at destination are frequently found infected with quail disease. So fatal is this disease that when it once appears most of the birds which are exposed to it die within a few days. In one shipment of these quail which recently reached New York only three birds survived the voyage, and in another of about 160 birds, more than two-thirds of the number died shortly after arrival. More than one-third of all the Mexican quail imported last year died within a few months. To guard against spread of quail disease live quail purchased for propagation should be kept under observation for two or three weeks and should not be liberated if infected with disease. The department desires to ascertain the result of experiments which have been made in importing quail this year and will be glad to receive information as to the condition of the birds and as to how many have died in any locality where the quail have been introduced.

Before next season the department will hold a public hearing in Washington, D. C., for the purpose of determining whether or not further permits for importation of quail from Mexico will be issued, at which various questions connected with the importation of quail will be carefully considered. Ample notice of this hearing will be given later in order that those who are interested may arrange to be present or to submit written statements.

OBITUARY.

Nimrod Funk, son of Jacob and Millie Funk, was born July 10, 1846, and departed this life Jan. 28, 1916, at the age of nearly three score and ten. The deceased was the eighth child of a family of twelve children, seven of whom preceded him to the grave. He was born on a farm about two and one-half miles east of Exeter and has resided in that neighborhood ever since.

In December, 1864, at the age of eighteen he responded to his country's call and enlisted in the 154th regiment of Illinois Volunteers. His brother William, in those dark days of '64 gave his life that his country may live on forever, and now he too offered his life for the same cause. He served faithfully in the Hospital Corps at Nashville, Tenn. until the close of the war and was mustered out of service in April, 1865. On September 6, 1867 he was united in marriage to Rhoda Mills, daughter of Alfred and Bada Mills. To this union were born four children, an infant who died July 5, 1868; Guy, who died July 19, 1879, at an age of a little less than two years; Lois, wife of Justin Leib, who died Feb. 1, 1915, and Carl, who survives him. On Nov. 24, 1906 the beloved wife of our subject departed this life leaving her mourning husband to continue life's journey alone.

He leaves to mourn his passing, two sisters, Mrs. Amanda Smith of Oakland, Calif. and Mrs. Ellen Mills of this vicinity, two brothers, John Funk of Holyoke, Colo., and Luke Funk of Cape Girardeau, Mo.; one son, Carl, nine grand-children and a host of other relatives and friends.

The late departed was well and favorably known throughout the county, he having served a term as county commissioner, from 1895 to 1898, and at all times being intimately connected with what ever was for the general welfare of the community. As a true son of the soil his farm bears mute evidence as to the success which crowned his thrift and enterprise. As a father, brother, uncle and friend our loved one had few peers, and doubtless his community never had a more all-around neighborhood useful man than Nimrod Funk.

No farther seek his merits to disclose, Or draw his frailties from their dread abode, There they alike in trembling hope repose.

The funeral service was conducted from the M. E. church, at Exeter, Rev. Chas. S. Japin, of the Circuit officiating, with a few well chosen remarks, and a quartet composed of Chas. Six, H. D. Killpatrick, Miss Vergie Buchanan, and Mrs. Florence Bracknell, sang three appropriate songs.

The pall-bearers were: James A. Webster, Lewis Funk, Clifford Mills, Fritz Haskell, Clyde and Clarence Funk, all nephews of the deceased. The floral tribute was profuse and beautiful, and in spite of the inclemency of the weather were sacredly heaped about the grave.

HEAVY EXPORTS OF

The exports today were more than one-half of the total reported for the six business days last week.

POEM WRITTEN BY LATE MRS. REBECCA HOFMAN

Verses Penned Nearly Fifty Years Ago by Well Known Resident Who Died Last Friday—Church Plans for Special Event in June—Other Concord News.

The following poem was written nearly fifty years ago by Mrs. Rebecca Hofman, who died last Friday at the age of 93:

Hebrews 1:14.
At midnight hour, I wakeful lay
And thought of life with all its care,
Till, weary with that restless day
I closed my eyes in silent prayer.
When kindly tones of long ago,
In gentle accents softly clear,
Stole on my ear, and whispered low,
"Loved one, we come thy heart to cheer."

We know for the life's path has been
O'er strewn with thorns and damp
With tears;
And yet, thy Father's love is thine,
He knoweth all thy doubts and fears,
Not thou alone hast found the thorn,
Thy Saviour found it long before;
Yet faint and weary, still toiled on
Beneath the heavy cross He bore.

Up Calvary's hill pursued His way
Urged on by buffet, jest and spear,
Till pity stirred the heart of one,
Strong in the love that knows no fear,
He forward stepped and raised the cross
From shoulders weary, worn and sore.
Then led the way o'er slippery moss
With heavy heart and failing tear.

So still pursue the path He trod,
Perform thy duties small and great
In faith and love, and trust in God.
His time in all things thou must wait
When toiling up the last high hill
There'll meet thee one, thy cross to bear.

Up to the top, and gently still,
With hope thy drooping spirit cheer.

And when thou gains His side at last,
With voice of love and kindly smile,
Daughter here ends thy earthly task.
Come, lay thy body down, the while
Thy spirit it shall go with me,
Thro' pastures green and pathways fair,
Till reached the home prepared for thee,
My face to see, thy crown to wear.

The voices ceased, with soul deep stirred,
I mused the lesson o'er and o'er;
For in my heart I felt I heard,
The voice of loved ones gone before.
To other hearts than mine be given
This lesson full of loving cheer;
Few hearts but own some loved in Heaven,
Few homes without their vacant chair.

Aug. 10, 1867.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious,
Give Fruit Laxative at Once.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleanser" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

NATIONAL LEAGUE IS FORTY YEARS OLD.

Is Oldest of Baseball Organizations and Has Weathered Many Storms.

New York, Feb. 1.—The National league enters upon its forty-first year tomorrow, its organization having been founded at Louisville on Feb. 2, 1876. It is the oldest baseball league in existence and may rightfully be termed the "grand-daddy" of all the leagues and associations that flourish in the country over. The original circuit of the league comprised the Nationals of New York, the Athletics of Philadelphia, and teams in St. Louis, Hartford, Boston, Louisville and Cincinnati. There have been many changes in the constitution, and the circuit has been shifted from time to time until the various clubs nestled where the fans were the thickest.

In 1892 the National league was a twelve-club circuit, and this was retained until 1899, when it was reduced to eight. "The coming season will therefore be the sixteenth in which Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Boston, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, New York and Chicago have had clubs.

Since the organization of the National league forty years ago, it has had only eight presidents, and one of them, Nick Young, was at the head of the league during half of that period. The present big chief is Hon. John K. Tener, former governor of Pennsylvania.

The history of the National league is virtually a history of professional baseball. When it began its career it had a monopoly of the field, the old National association, which had existed for several years previously, giving way to the new organization. With the increase in the public interest in the pastime and the growth of many big cities, new leagues grew up. The first big rival was the American league. Instead of fighting it out for the leadership, the magnates of both circuits saw the advantages of mutual understanding, and the two leagues have prospered. More recently came the Federal league, which had bridged a chasm against two big leagues firmly established.

And the old National league is still on deck, with prospects more rosy than ever for the coming season, its forty-first.

TO CUT $6,363,787 MELON.
Oil City, Pa., Feb. 1.—A special meeting will be held here today by stockholders of the National Transit company, one of the richest of the former subsidiaries of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, to decide on a proposal of the directors that $6,363,787 be distributed among the stockholders. The officials suggest reducing the par value of the stock from $25 to $12.50 a share, and convert the company's investments into cash for the distribution.

LAND O'NOD STORIES

"You had better take refuge with me in my apartments at the bottom of the city," said the Queen of the Ants as her army prepared to go to war for the purpose of capturing a new lot of slaves. "These slave making raids are dangerous undertakings, and if the enemy should win this battle, they would invade what would happen to you in that case."

"Thank you, your Highness," replied Billy Be By Bo Bum, "but if you don't mind, I would rather join your army and go to war."

"Tut, tut," interrupted Tinker Teedle Tee. "You can't do that you know. You probably would be chewed all to pieces by the savage soldiers, and then what would I tell your mother? But if you really want to see the battle, and it is not a pleasant sight, I assure you, we can climb to the top of an oat tree and watch the fight in safety."

So Billy and Tinker said goodbye to the queen and made their way to the plain above where the army was already forming. A steady stream of soldier ants was pouring from the city gate and swarming down the sides of the hill, until in a few minutes the cleared ground surrounding the city was black with soldiers, all eager for the fray. As the numbers increased the excitement grew. The soldiers were moving uneasily back and forth and around and around in a kind of maze, for all the world like a regular army going thru a drill. A faint, crackling sound arose from the agitated mass, a martial music caused by the sharp contact of countless insects whose hard skins formed an armor as serviceable as that worn by the knights of old.

In and out of this seething mass the slaves, the small Negro ants, were moving back and forth, going about their daily round of work as the nothing unusual was happening, and Billy couldn't help wondering if these slaves knew the army was bent on destroying their native city and carrying their kinsmen into captivity, just as they had been captured in some former slave making raid.

At last the muster was complete, mysteriously but effectively the signal "Forward March" was given and the army moved off thru the oat forest. Although there was no general in command of the column or any subordinate officers to give orders, the ant army marched in regular, orderly rows. There was no guide or overseer, and no commands were given, but for all that no army of men ever went forth to war in better array.

Billy and Tinker pushed their way thru the crowd to the edge of the clearing. Then they plunged into the oat forest and ran until they were out of breath, when the merry little elf spread his wings and flew to the top of a tall oat tree, while Billy shinned up the smooth trunk, perching himself on the top of the swaying stalk of grain.

"There's the city our friends are going to attack!" said Tinker, pointing across the oat forest to a small clearing in the center of which stood an ant hill. The inhabitants of the city evidently were not expecting an attack for the little Negro workers were going about their daily tasks, carrying supplies into the city, lugging out pellets of dirt, which showed they were enlarging the underground city, while others were sunning themselves on the hill and making their toilets.

"Here come our friends," shouted Tinker, waving the weeny copper kettle he wore for a hat, and the next minute the Queen's army dashed out of the forest and fell upon the poor Negroes. At the first onset the villagers fled into the city and spread the alarm, closely pursued by their foes. Now in many ways ants are a great deal like men and women. When disaster befalls them, their first thought is for their children. So the brave little Negro ants, instead of trying to escape by fleeing thru the oat forest, rushed down into the nursery and sought to save their babies. All who could grabbed up an egg, a cocoon or a baby ant in its jaws, seeking to carry their precious burden to a place of safety.

But the enemy fell upon them, crushing them in their powerful jaws and making off with the cocoons or eggs. In less than no time the Queen's soldiers had fought their way into the nursery where they seized the remaining eggs, carrying them back to the home city. But strange to say, they did not bother the full grown Negro ants except those that were trying to escape with eggs or cocoons, and this puzzled Billy greatly.

"I thought you said the soldiers were going to capture a lot of slaves," said Billy.

"That's just what they are doing," replied the elf.

"But as soon as they get the egg or cocoon away from a Negro, they stop attacking him and let him escape," protested Billy.

"Yes, they want only the eggs," replied Tinker. "These they take home, where they are welcomed by the slaves, maybe the brothers and sisters of the baby captives. The slaves carry the plunder to the nursery where they tend and care for them as carefully as they do those of their masters. When the Negro babies hatch out, they will be trained to grow up into useful slaves."

And next week I'll tell you how the ants fought a bloody battle.

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Peking, Jan.—Chinese newspapers are insistent that Japan should immediately deport Sun Yat Sen and the other Chinese revolutionary leaders living in Japan, thus removing one of the causes for the general suspicion in China that Japan is encouraging the revolutionaries.

The Peking Daily Times, which is semi-official in character, reviews all the recent disturbances in China in an editorial, and expresses the opinion that Japan cannot right herself in the eyes of the Chinese public without checking the work of the enemies of the Chinese government operating in Japanese territory.

"Admiral Tseng was killed with arms manufactured in Japan," says the editorial. "A Japanese was arrested for endeavoring to smuggle a large quantity of dynamite into Shanghai. A couple of days later a Japanese bomb manufacturer blew himself up in Shanghai, and it was subsequently ascertained that he had been in close association with Chinese anarchists. Finally, the ruffians who attacked the Kiangnan arsenal were largely armed with weapons that had come from Japan and documents were seized showing that Sun Yat Sen has instigated the murderous exploit."

"The duty of Japan is clear. If she values her international reputation she will deport Sun Yat Sen and the other instigators of murder and outrage to whom she has been giving harborage. These men are not political refugees. They are conspirators who are anxious to bring about anarchy in a country with which Japan is on the most friendly relations. If Japan wants peace and for action of this kind she can find plenty. Only a few days ago she ordered two Indians who had been associating themselves with rebellious enterprises in India to be deported. Sun Yat Sen himself was in former days deported from Hongkong, Annam and Siam for instigating rebellion in China, and the government of the Straits Settlements threatened to deport him for making speeches calculated to create disorder in China. Now that there is documentary proof that he was di-

We are all greatly indebted to those who tell their experiences. And among the many things which we read about and are of immediate importance to the expectant mother, is a splendid external remedy called "Mother's Friend." This is applied over the muscles of the stomach. It is deeply penetrating in its influence. Mothers everywhere tell of its soothing effect, how it allays pains incident to stretching of cords, ligaments and muscles. They tell of restful comfort, of calm, peaceful nights, an absence of those distresses peculiar to the period of expectancy, relief from morning sickness, no more of that prostration with which so many young women's minds become burdened. It is a splendid help. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" from your nearest druggist. Ask your husband to get it for you. Then write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 368 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a very handsome and instructive book. It is filled with suggestive ideas of great help to all women interested in the subject of maternity. And best of all are some letters from mothers that are real inspirations. Write today.

We can go back half a century for letter from women who "Mother's Friend." And it was this sort of recommendation that extended its use until today it is sold in almost every drug store in the United States. It is considered a standard remedy and one of the most efficient being known. Directions for using are very easily complied with and it may be used at any time whenever needed.

The Woman's Medicine Has Proved Its Worth.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies were first introduced, their curative powers were doubted and had to be proved. But the proof came, and gradually the use of them spread over the whole country. Now that hundreds of thousands of women have experienced the most beneficial effects from the use of these medicines, their value has become generally recognized, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard medicine for women.

The following letter is only one of the thousands on file in the Pinkham office, at Lynn, Mass., proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an article of great merit as shown by the results it produces.

Anamosa, Iowa.—"When I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered with a displacement, and my system was in a general run-down condition. I would have the headache for a week and my back would ache so bad when I could bend down I could hardly straighten up. My sister was sick in bed for two months and doctored, but did not get any relief. She saw an advertisement of your medicine and tried it and got better. She told me what it had done for her, and when I had taken only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my head began to feel better. I continued its use and now I don't have any of those troubles."—Mrs. L. J. HANNAN, R.F.D. 1, Anamosa, Iowa.

rectly connected with the affair at the Kiangnan arsenal the Japanese government should lose no time in ordering him out of the country. A special opportunity is now afforded her of showing the sincerity of her friendship for China. If she takes it, she will settle the suspicion that has undoubtedly been generated by the active and passive participation of Japanese in recent illegal acts in China."

Sun Yat Sen has been connected with the recent movement against Yuan Shi-Kai in Shanghai thru the discovery of letters from Tseang Tse-tang, Li Chu-tiao and other leaders of the insurrection now under arrest. The captain of the cruiser Chao Ho, which was seized by the rebels, and three midshipmen, have been placed under arrest. Many conflicting stories are in circulation as to who financed the movement. One story has it that the money came from Japan, probably from men associated with Sun Yat Sen. Another story has it that rich Chinese now in the republic furnished a million dollars to make the demonstration against Kiangnan arsenal.

There are evidences that the plan was deep-laid and amply financed. It is now supposed the demonstration was somewhat premature. The two murderers of Admiral Tseang Jue-cheng, who were turned over to the Chinese by the mixed court in Shanghai, are under torture at Nanking, and it is generally believed that they divulged facts which connected many revolutionary leaders with the assassins and made it necessary for the enemies of the government to move quickly if they desired to prevent the defeat of their plan to gain control of Shanghai and other points along the Yangtze Valley.

Vernacular papers, as well as those printed in English lay much stress on the fact that all arms and ammunition seized when the rebels boarded the Chao Ho immediately gave rise to the suspicion that traitors were on board. The cruiser is manned by three hundred and thirty men. It has a displacement of two thousand, seven hundred and fifty tons, and carries two six-inch, four four-inch, three three-inch, and six three-pounder guns. It also carries two one-pounder guns.

China and some of the Latin-American republics are probably the only places in the world where such a melodramatic incident as that of December 3 could take place. A party of less than fifty young Chinese dressed in foreign clothing and having the appearance of students, approached the Chao Ho in a launch just before dark, and were allowed to board her on the pretext that they wished to inspect the ship. The young revolutionists then split up into parties which scattered about among the various guns. They suddenly produced revolvers, and threatened to kill the officers and gunners if they did not hand over the keys to the magazine. Many of the crew leaped overboard in their fright, and the others were soon overawed by the threatening revolutionists.

Keys to some of the magazines were lost in the hurry and never produced. However, after killing four men, the revolutionists obtained ammunition for some of the small guns and forced the gunners to direct fire on the arsenal. The gunners apparently fired at such an elevation that they did hit the objects the revolutionists desired them to fire at, but sent their shots into the foreign settlements beyond. The Chao Ho lay in midstream when she was seized and was directly opposite the arsenal. Five other warships were also lying at anchor in a line extending about one mile. Some of these were dismantled and undergoing repair, and only two of them were able to do anything to silence the Chao Ho's guns. Even these had steam up, and were so located that firing was very hazardous.

Darkness was upon the fleet a few minutes after the revolutionists boarded the Chao Ho. A small fort adjoining the arsenal began firing at all the warships, lest others might follow the lead of the Chao Ho. Meantime the revolutionists forced the gunners of the Chao Ho to continue the shot which were fired wide of the mark the rebels desired to hit. Several boarding parties from the shore attempted to recapture the Chao Ho, but were driven back. This situation continued until about one o'clock in the morning of the following day. When dawn broke the cruiser Yingswei began firing with definite aim at the Chao Ho and in a very short time the rebels took to small boats and escaped to the shore. One shell struck the Chao Ho about six inches above the water line. Her conning tower was hit, and a shell struck her bows.

Soldiers in small boats tried to follow the rebels disappearing in a mist, but were unsuccessful in catching them before they landed. The movement against the arsenal from the water side was feebly supported by small land forces armed with rifles. This, however, was easily suppressed by the soldiers in the garrison of the arsenal. Bands of coolies heavily armed also made demonstrations in the foreign settlements, but were quickly suppressed by the police. These coolies threw a number of bombs and terrified foreigners for a time. Confederates of the revolutionists who attacked the Chao Ho cut telephone, telegraph and electric light wires, and caused general confusion before the connections could be restored. The demonstration has terrorized foreigners in Shanghai, because it has shown how effectively even a small band of revolutionists can operate under the protecting arm of the foreign settlements, over which President Yuan Shi-Kai has no control. While the movement showed some disloyalty among the Chinese, it demonstrated a high percentage of loyalty and better organization than many foreigners supposed was in existence among the Chinese military and naval forces. The government has issued state-

CHAPTER II.

Deadly but Controllable and Preventable Diseases Are Attacking men and Women as well as Children. Are We Seeking the Cause?

Of the total number of deaths recorded among the 6.1 per cent of our population, leaving 34.9 per cent unreported, tuberculosis of the lungs, tuberculous meningitis, and tuberculous of the glands and bones were responsible for 93,421 deaths in the last year reported.

These figures represent only the number of those who perished of tuberculosis in that year, not the number of those who were afflicted with it or incapacitated by it, or preparing to die thru its visitation upon them.

Fifty-eight thousand nine hundred and seventy-three died of diarrhoea, and this number includes in no manner the number who during year were stricken with diarrhoea and recovered. It simply indicates the fatal cases, representative of the wide prevalence of grave errors of diet.

Cancer, rapidly on the increase, was responsible for 49,928 deaths. Dr. Curtis E. Lakenan of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, at the annual convention of the public health section of the Southern Medical Association at Dallas, Texas, Nov. 8, 1915, declared that cancer is increasing rapidly in the United States so that we now have 80,000 cases each year.

Bright's disease, also on the increase, with acute nephritis, was responsible for 65,106 deaths.

These two diseases alone, which, as will be shown, authorities are now beginning to trace to food abuses, were responsible in one year for 125,034 deaths. This means that hundreds of thousands who have not yet died have cancer, nephritis or Bright's disease.

Appendicitis and diabetes, also rapidly on the increase, stalk along with menacing men as important attendants of the great executioner.

The National Association of Study of Tuberculosis informs us that in the year 1911 $14,500,000 was spent thruout the country in the war against tuberculosis. About the same amount was spent in the year 1910. Since that time large sums have been spent. Of the total sum spent last year nearly $15,000,000 was spent in the treatment of consumptives in sanatoriums and hospitals. Millions of dollars were spent by anti-tuberculosis associations, open air schools, dispensaries, and boards of health.

New York, Pennsylvania, and Massachusetts spend nearly $10,000,000 annually fighting this disease. In the early part of 1912 state legislatures and other public bodies appropriated over $10,000,000 to continue the work. The mission of these relentless figures is to arise in you for your own sake some interest in this stupendous tragedy.

They show that a little army of noble men and women is fighting out there in the field of sorrow with such poor weapons as they have.

They throw the light upon another weapon within easy reach, a weapon long neglected, a weapon the use of which can be learned not only by the adult but even by the child.

Before abandoning the facts, as announced by the census director at Washington, concerning the unsu-ments laying great stress on the fact that the outbreak took place when the majority of the officers and crews of the warships were off on leave. Hereafter, no leave is to be granted to men and officers on the Chinese warships at Shanghai and along the Yangtze. Less than ten men were killed in all, four of the dead being shot on the Chao Ho. The material damage in the foreign settlement and at the arsenal was very slight, and the injury to the Chao Ho was such that she will probably be in commission again within a few weeks.

President Yuan Shi-Kai and his advisors regard Sun Yat Sen and Huang Hsing, both of whom are now in Japan, as the direct instigators of the outbreak.

London, Jan.—The brief dispatch that the Russians have taken Kashan in Persia brings another romantic name into the theatre of war operations. It is almost a sacred name, as tradition says it was from Kashan that the Wise Men started on their holy pilgrimage to Bethlehem so many Christmases ago.

Every step taken both by the Russian and British expeditions in this corner of the world is in a country of interesting history and tradition. The British, from a base on the supposed site of the Garden of Eden, operated against Baghdad, the city of the Arabian Nights, and the Russians in their advance on Kashan recently took Hamadan, the ancient Ecbatana, which contains, according to the Mohammedans, the tombs of Esther and Mordecai.

The belief that at Kashan the Wise Men of the East first saw the star of Bethlehem has found support among learned Christian theologians. But, however, that may be Kashan became a great city in ancient times, especially after it was rebuilt by Zobeideh, wife of Haroun-el-Raschid. It once had 6,500 houses and forty mosques, and was renowned for its silk weavers and brass workers. But civil wars, earthquakes and economic causes brought about its decay. There is still seen the famous leaning minaret, 120 feet high, which once served as an oriental divorce court. Unfaithful wives were dragged up the spiral staircase to the top and shoved off. Four miles from Kashan are the remains of the wonderful palace built by Shah Abbas, the greatest of the Persian monarchs. The oasis constructed by the Shahis still green, its pavilions are gay with paintings and mosaics and its gardens full of roses, watered by streams that run thru blue tiled channels. In this palace, a political tragedy was enacted in 1865. Mirza Khan, prime minister and own brother-in-law of the reigning shah, was condemned to death. He asked permission to commit suicide, and opened a vein in his arm in one of the ancient tiled bathrooms of the palace. The ruined palace with its summer houses amid trees and gardens, surrounded by desert, is described as the most beautiful thing of its kind in the Near East.

Kashan is also famous for its scorpions, which are said to be among the largest and most poisonous in the world.

If so, see your dentist. He will tell you that you have pyorrhea, and that to save your teeth you will have to fight this dread disease at once.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Maxwell

A man said to me
the other day:

Mr. Kennedy you've not only helped my business but you've given my family a better idea of living. Believe me, I appreciate it."

This man had been skeptical about motoring. He had both a business and a family to keep going, without adding an automobile, and he couldn't see why he should tie up good dollars in such a luxury. I began talking "Maxwell" to him. I convinced him that $655 was the limit necessary to get the best in an automobile.

I cited concrete facts about the Maxwell as a business asset—the time it saves, the prestige it gives, the new business it makes possible.

I emphasized the advantages of a Maxwell in his home-life—the opportunities it affords to get out into the open—to let his family enjoy new health and new pleasures.

Then I told him about my "Pay-As-You-Ride" plan—a plan that offers you the privilege of paying for your Maxwell as you use it, just as you might pay for furniture or real estate.

That man today is SATISFIED. He owns his Maxwell—it is a genuine help to him in many ways—yet he pays as he rides, without inconvenience to his pocket-book.

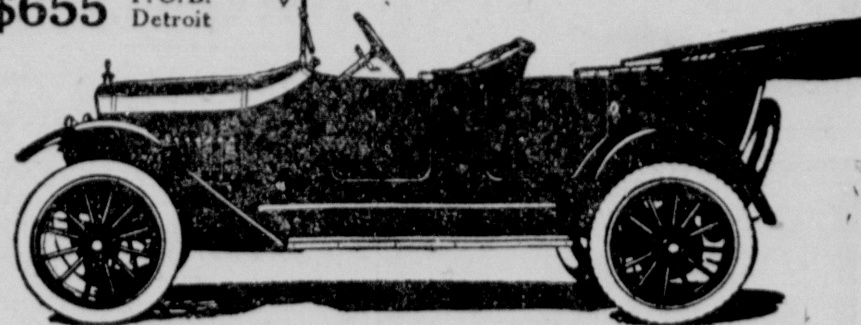

You can own a Maxwell on the same plan. You can know the same benefits—the same pleasures. You can pay as YOU ride.

I want to give you the complete details.

STOCKS MAKE SUDDEN RECOVERY FROM PROTRACTED PESSIMISM

Various Reasons and Theories Are Offered in Explanation—Prices Rally Easily from the Low Levels of Monday.
New York, Feb. 1.—In explanation of today's sudden and general recovery of the stock market from its protracted pessimism various reasons and theories were offered. Primarily it was declared that the report of President Wilson's recent speeches had been misinterpreted, that they had not been intended to convey a sense of immediate danger, but rather to awaken a feeling of patriotism in latent quarters.

MAYOR RODGERS POINTS TO NEED FOR PROPOSED BOND ISSUE

City's Chief Executive Declares that Money From This Source Will Provide for Development Along Various Lines and Also Produce Revenue.

Speaking at the Chamber of Commerce annual meeting Tuesday night and making a report for the department of public affairs Mayor Rodgers had the following statement:

"I wish to call your attention to the fact that the prosperity, happiness and welfare of the homes of the world and especially of this country, is the one lasting foundation of our social welfare. Our community life and prosperity is maintained by the Chamber of Commerce, which is the home of our commercial and physical life, where problems may be and are discussed openly and freely for the common good, as in the home, we discuss our weaknesses, tell each other of our faults, suggest ways to correct the habits of each other. We have our differences; still it is home; we all profit mentally, morally, spiritually and physically thru its instructions, and the world and community is benefited thereby. So in the Chamber of Commerce is the home life of Jacksonville, in a commercial and physical way.

"It is not conducted for the financial profit of the Chamber of Commerce, but for the good of the general public. It stands always for those matters which will uplift the community life, never detrimental. It has been a continuous and combined force, which is as strong and no stronger than personnel of this community.

"It is your Chamber of Commerce, whether you are a sustaining member or not. You are a part of Jacksonville and should be a member of the Chamber of Commerce and thereby add strength to the organization. The members of the Chamber of Commerce are the people that do things worth while in their own affairs, and are therefore doing good to and for the community, by combining their abilities in the Chamber of Commerce for the community life.

"We are indebted to people of the past and present for their sacrifices and efforts to prepare for us what we are enjoying today. Our Water System and the Widenham and Darb Wells, the Electric Light and Power Plant, our Boulevard and Street Lighting System, have been established operated and owned by the people against much opposition; still they are ours. And the people will show good business judgment if they will continue to own and control them, which can be done with profit.

Public Improvements.

"We as a city have a great work before us this year, in Public Improvements, such as new pavement, side walks, sewers, enlarging the capacity of the Electric Light Plant to meet the future demands and assure power cheaply and unfailingly, extending and enlarging water main from the North Pumping Station to the Reservoir, so the friction head will be reduced; and make it possible to pump all the water from the North Pumping Station, when we install new wells and a large receiving reservoir there, which will reduce the cost of operation and give us a full supply of pure water in the City Mains for all purposes. There should be a separate Water Main connected to the water tower, to supply adequate pressure of water in the west part of the City, situated around and adjacent to the large Reservoir, while the Reservoir would supply the rest of the City, the water tower to be kept full automatically from the Reservoir. It looks and seems profitable to install street mains for heating the business section from the exhaust steam of the City Plant. Street pavements have been delayed for years for one reason or another, until possible difficulties have been removed and work begun. We may hope for a great improvement in the streets and sidewalks in the near future.

Bond Issue Proposed.

"In order to make the necessary improvements now contemplated to be enjoyed in the near future, the people of Jacksonville will have to consider the advisability of voting an issue of bonds covering a period of twenty years, which would pay for the new improvements and extensions. The Municipal taxes from the sheriff could be used to pay our floating indebtedness and take care of some $22,000 of defaulted improvement bonds, so our city's credit may be unquestioned. Also, the city was surveyed by a special agent from the Insurance Rate Bureau last summer. He reported that our rate of fire insurance was entirely too low, according to our present water supply and fire-fighting equipment, as suggested, as one of the requirements, that we should put a motor truck on our fire engine and install a motor truck chemical and hose wagon, together with some improvements in hydrants, etc., and then our rate would be reduced, instead of raised. With a bond issue to care for the Light and Water Department we can then purchase the required equipment for the Fire Department with the Municipal taxes. Now, the facts are these: we, the individuals, must pay in our taxes for the equipment to reduce our fire rate, or we will have to pay more than the taxes amount to in our increased fire insurance rates. This increased fire rate proposed would cost the policy holders more in one year than the new equipment would cost.

"Greater Revenue in Prospect. "The increased consumption of water when it is pure, and the decrease in the operating expenses of our Water, Light and power plants when properly equipped will be sufficient to fully meet the indebtedness by maturity. We must look to the future. The revenue for Municipalities must be raised in Jacksonville and other cities in the near future by and from its utilities, or else the tax rate must be increased by the Legislature. I want to put in your minds this thought: what condition would Jacksonville finances be in if the lease to the Jacksonville Water Co. had been complied with and our water system turned over to them? We would then have had no revenue except the Municipal taxes and fines, totaling not over $60,000 per annum. From that we would have paid each year nearly $9,000 for fire hydrants. As it is, we get all this thrown in with the water receipts of some $32,000 per annum. If it took all of the water receipts to operate the department, we would still be ahead $9,000 per year at least, and still own our Water System, which is certainly worth $400,000 to $500,000 or more.

"It is your City, your Utilities, it is your business to vote the bonds or not as you desire. The question will be up to you in the near future. Consider well and vote with an eye single to the good of Jacksonville."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE REPORTS

Retail Merchants' Department.

"I regret very much that conditions are such that I cannot meet with you this evening, but suppose a report from the retail department is necessary, therefore, as chairman of this department, I wish to submit the following:

"During the past year we have worked in connection with the secretary in bringing to a successful termination a number of entertainments which he has covered in his report. We have held a number of meetings and have shown a better feeling existing between the retailers, especially this is noticeable among the grocers, dry goods dealers, hardware and clothing. We feel that they are closer together than they have been for years and the merchants who have taken an active part in the meetings see the advantage of this closer relationship.

"The main thing as retailers, which we are trying to do is to show the advantage of trading at home and we are trying to eliminate many of the expenses known as over-head charges so that we can sell our various lines of merchandise at a lower price than the surrounding towns are now selling them, and in this way build up a better retail trade.

"In offering extra inducements to customers living in other towns we are enabled to make closer prices to our regular trade. This, I think, should be emphasized that our regular trade may understand why we offer this free railroad fare. We can all boost this game along by calling the attention of our regular customers to this fact.

"Our secretary and the advertising committee have done well this year in eliminating many fake advertisements. We would encourage the merchants to pay more attention to these advertisers and not to fall for every offer that seeks to work us for advertising. In the judgment of the secretary and advertising committee it is more advisable to invest more in newspaper advertising and less with fake advertisers.

"Respectfully submitted,
"Frank Byrns, Chairman,
"Retail Merchants' Committee,
Rural Affairs Department.

"The activities of your department of rural affairs during the past year have been directed chiefly to the development and marking of auto trails and to assisting the Morgan County Farmers' club in creating a sentiment for the employment of a county agricultural advisor."

"The unusual weather conditions which have prevailed have prevented accomplishing much in either direction, but better results are promised in the near future."

"Respectfully submitted,
"Frank Hein, Chairman"

EPIDEMIC OF BOILS

HAVE YOU YOUR SHARE?

A Journal reporter was talking to a well known citizen Tuesday who had a number of boils. The citizen in response to a question as to what was the matter said that there seemed to be an epidemic of boils. He said that he was just getting rid of the last of a half a dozen or so and that he knew personally of at least a hundred persons in Jacksonville who had been afflicted with boils the past few weeks. There seems to be no known cause for this but the fact remains that the reporter also knew a number who were afflicted with boils, so he could not state whether the number ran to the hundred mark or not. Perhaps, however, it is the style at present. If you haven't any boils you should get some at once to be in the running.

NEW INSURANCE FIRM.

M. O. Matthews and Thomas Jenkinson have formed a partnership for the soliciting of insurance. It became known Tuesday. Mr. Matthews is one of the city's well known residents, having resided on Westminster street for some years past. Thomas Jenkinson is a young man, but has always been noted locally for his enterprise. The firm will handle fire insurance, auto insurance and accident insurance and will deal in real estate. The firm name will be Matthews & Jenkinson and it will have offices in the Farrell bank building. Both members of the firm are well known and no doubt will enjoy a good patronage.

John Kennedy and Charles Black rode to the city yesterday from Arcadia in Mr. Kennedy's Maxwell car. They found the roads somewhat lumpy at times though they managed to make the trip all right.

SAD, YET INTERESTING, SOUVENIRS OF WAR

Dr. John Green of Chicago has sent his cousin, Miss Alice Green, bookkeeper in the banking house of Dunlap, Russell & Co., a number of sad yet interesting souvenirs given him by a nurse who served the allied armies during the present awful conflict abroad. They are articles belonging to soldiers who will not have any further use for them on earth.

One is a perfume sachet with a tiny card tied on the latter a flower and the words, "In Him Will I Trust."

Another is a small perfume sachet and tied to it is a tiny booklet priced at one penny and containing sixty bible promises.

A useful article is a box of safety matches made in Joenkoping, Sweden. They are called balloon safety matches and are said not to glow made in Joenkoping, Sweden. They when extinguished nor do the ends drop off.

A bag contains two first field dressings in waterproof covers, each consisting of a gauze pad stitched to a waterproof bandage and a safety pin.

A small bronze name plate with the word Canada on it; several shells with pointed bullets, a military button and five centime French coin complete the collection which may be seen a short time at the Journal office.

FARMERS' CONFERENCE CALLED FOR THURSDAY

By a typographical error in the Journal Tuesday morning the statement appeared that the meeting of farmers and landowners for conference on the farm adviser question would be held at the court house Tuesday afternoon. The meeting is called for Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The publication error gave prominence to the fact that there is a great deal of interest in organ county in this advisor question for after the Journal had reached the farming community many telephone inquiries were received asking if the date had been changed from Thursday to Tuesday.

Mrs. William Heinl and her guest Miss Dare Ricketts of St. Louis are spending a few days visiting in Chicago.

CONFERENCE MAY AVERT GREAT COAL STRIKE.

Mobile, Ala., Feb. 1.—The joint conference of mine operations and union leaders of Illinois, Ohio, western Pennsylvania and Indiana will open here today, with the object of reaching an agreement on the basis for wages and working conditions in the anthracite fields for the coming year, is considered one of the most important labor conferences of recent times. For on the measures of success which the conferees achieve in bringing about some concrete agreement depends the peace of the mining industry. The operators have been preparing for the contingency of a strike when their agreements with the men terminate on March 31, and the United Mine Workers have, on the other hand, perfected their organization with a view to fighting it out for a higher wage scale, more favorable working conditions, and recognition of their union. These two great organizations of capitalists and workers have had many clashes in the past. Although there have been concessions on both sides, the main issues have never been settled, and the miners believe they have had the worst of past agreements.

Eight miners and eight operators from each of the four coal producing states will take part in the deliberations here. They will represent all of the interests involved in the coal situation, with the exception of the public. Representatives of the department of labor at Washington will be in evidence, and will try to relieve the tensions and bring the factions together.

INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION AT WINNIPEG.

Winnipeg, Manitoba, Feb. 1.—The International Joint commission, consisting of commissioners from the United States and the Dominion of Canada, meets here today to hear all those interested in the subject of power in connection with the investigation of the levels of the Lake of the Woods and tributary waters.

This controversy has been pending between the two governments for nearly thirty years. The Lake of the Woods is a body of water 1,500 miles in area and containing some 3,000 scattered islands. By the construction of the Norman Dam at the outlet of the lake, at the city of Kenora, Ont., the level of the lake was raised materially, submerging many thousands of acres of agricultural and timber lands in the drainage area of both countries.

The commission has made a complete topographical survey of the whole territory and is now gathering the final facts as to water power in order to prepare its recommendations.

NO TROUBLE TO KEEP SKIN FREE FROM HAIRS

(The Modern Beauty)

There is no need for any woman to countenance superfluous hairs, because with a paste made by mixing some powdered deatone with water it is easy to get rid of them. The paste is applied for 2 to 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This treatment will rid the skin of hair without leaving a blemish, but care should be taken to see that you get real deatone.—Adv.

USE OF DRUGS DIMINISHING.

It has been stated that the expense for drugs at the Massachusetts General Hospital has been reduced 50 per cent in ten years,—but the demand for such non-secret, reliable remedies as Vinol is largely on the increase. Our local druggist, Lee P. Allcott, goes so far as to guarantee Vinol for weak, run-down conditions, chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis, because one gets in Vinol a combination of the three most famous tonics, iron for the blood, the healing medicinal extractives of fresh cod livers, and the nourishing properties of beef peptone, all in a delicious native wine.—Adv.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Adv.

COACH W. T. HARMON TO REMAIN HERE

ADDITIONAL FUND BY ALUMNI SOLVES PROBLEM.

Will Not Accept Offer of South Carolina School—Coach Negotiating Football Dates—Program of Athletic Events.

As the result of the activity manifested by the Alumni of Illinois college, Coach Harmon who had signified his intention of accepting a position as coach of Clemson college of South Carolina will remain here. It was announced Tuesday. Messrs. J. G. Ames, Ralph I. Dunlap and W. G. Goebel had the matter in hand and Mr. Dunlap and Mr. Goebel were around with subscription paper yesterday, and secured $150. They expect to raise the other fifty today, making the $200 necessary to meet the financial side of the question. Coach Harmon is now receiving $1,700 and this additional, which is pledged for two years, makes the total $1,900.

It is certainly gratifying news to the many friends of Coach Harmon that he is to remain with Illinois college and naturally there is much rejoicing among the athletes of "Old Illinois," and friends of the school.

Athletic Schedule. As soon as the basketball season has closed Coach Harmon will have his athletes at work in preparation for the various meets which Illinois will be interested in during the coming season. The dates which are now fixed are as follows:

May 5—Second Annual Illinois College Interscholastic Track and Field Meet.

May 13—Dual track meet here with Millikin university of Decatur.

May 20—Dual meet with Bradley Polytechnic Institute at Peoria.

May 27—Intercollegiate field and track meet of "Little Eighteen" association to be held here.

May 28—Tennis tournament both single and doubles in connection with the Intercollegiate Field and Track Meet.

May 13—Interscholastic field and track meet in Champaign.

The W. I. H. S. L. Meet.

There has been no announcement made thus far of the time when the Western Illinois High School League will hold their annual meet in Jacksonville. Negotiations of an extended character were made last year when Illinois college was trying to arrange a time to hold the interscholastic meet, so that it would not interfere with the W. I. H. S. L. or the Illinois valley meet in Griggsville. At the meeting a year ago a committee consisting of Supt. Russell of Beardstown, Prin. Charles A. R. Stone of Jacksonville and one or two more were appointed to inquire into the matter for the meets this year.

Coach Harmon was in communication last fall with Supt. Russell relative to the matter. He said that he was not particular whether Illinois held their meet May 5 or May 6 and Illinois has chosen the 5th. This will be a week before the big interscholastic state meet at Champaign, May 13. The dates for holding the Illinois Valley meet at Griggsville and the W. I. H. S. L. meet have not been announced.

With so many events coming in May in Jacksonville, Illinois college athletes will be unusually busy and the season promises to be a red letter one in the history of athletics in Jacksonville. Last year in the interscholastic meet there were 38 schools represented. In the dual meet between Millikin and Illinois here, there will also be contest both in single and double tennis.

Filling Football Schedule.

The football schedule for Illinois is being held up on account of the inability to get definite word from Monmouth and Knox colleges, members of the "Little Five" conference. Coach Harmon has been in recent communication with Monmouth and they are going to let him know definitely within a few days. Knox college is still a possible candidate for a scheduled game, so is St. Louis university. St. Louis U. wants to come here Oct. 21, the date already arranged with Normal Ill.

St. Louis U. Comes Saturday.

Coach Harmon is getting his men in shape for the game Saturday night against St. Louis university in Armory hall. The U. has some team this year, but Illinois expects to make the score board show the bigger figures for the local five.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF GIVING COLD CHECKS

Lawrence Mills was arrested by Officer Baker Tuesday on the charge of giving a worthless check to Edwin Smart & Co. The warrant was sworn out by the Edwin Smart Co., after Mills had given the firm a check for $5 on the Ayers National bank which was found to be worthless. Mills is in the city prison and it is probable that he will be taken before Justice Dyer today and placed under bond. Mills is a farm hand and married a young woman who lived in the vicinity of Franklin. It is alleged that on two previous occasions he has given checks that proved to be worthless but his father-in-law has squared the account. It is not known whether he will fix up Mills' present trouble or not.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD IN MEMORY OF MRS. SARAH RUSSEL

Large Company of Friends Gathered for the Services at Home of G. S. Rogerson—Tribute by Dr. Post.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah R. Russel was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of her brother, George S. Rogerson, 327 Lockwood place. The residence was completely filled with friends of Mrs. Russel, who had known her during her long residence in Morgan county. The service was in charge of Dr. R. O. Post, pastor of Congregational church, before he read the scripture passages Miss Ansie Moore sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd," and after the closing prayer Miss Moore sang again, her selection being "No Night There."

Dr. Post read from the 103d Psalm and the 14th chapter of John, because they were favorite scripture passages of Mrs. Russel's. The minister also read other passages from the Bible appropriate to the occasion. Dr. Post said in part, "The little that I will speak today must be simple, as was the manner of life of our friend. It is a sweet thing that she could be brought back here for this final service, to the home of the one to whom she was more than sister, for during long years she was a mother also to this brother. When David died he asked that his body be taken back to that plot of ground where Abraham and Sarah, Jacob and Isaac and their wives were buried. And so we can feel that it would be a great satisfaction to Mrs. Russel to be brought back here to God's acre, where there are so many memories sacred to the Russel family."

As this service has approached I have been impressed with the characteristic feeling which has marked every comment upon this good woman, for every phrase has been significantly tender and spoken in a reassuring way, indicating how sweet was the influence in every relation of life. When those lives are finished where coldness and harshness have been characteristic, flowers seem a mere mockery. But here today they become the sweet forget-me-nots of a hallowed memory.

"We know that her most marked characteristic was the mother spirit, and on earth that spirit is the counterpart of God. The love was so strongly evidenced in her home, it went beyond those confines and the mothering spirit extended to all with whom she was associated. Her friends were dear to her, her church she loved, and she was loyal and true in all of life's relations."

"When years ago death entered her home and took one by one within a short period of time six dear children, her spirit was bowed down with grief, yet she could smile thru her tears and kept the forward march, and with rare courage continued in helpful service to the family remaining and to the ever widening circle of her friends. Mrs. Russel walked in close fellowship with God and the end of her life but closed a wonderful book, where we can turn the leaves and find inspiration for courageous Christian living."

There were many beautiful flowers, which were cared for by Mrs. H. C. Wolfman, Miss Claire Bradley, Miss Agnes Rogerson, Miss Dorothy Rogerson, Mrs. George G. Rogerson.

Interment was in Diamond Grove cemetery and the bearers were Messrs. Edward Bradley, Andrew Russel, George S. Russel, Ralph I. Dunlap, John H. Russel and Thomas S. Russel.

RABBIT SEASON HAS CLOSED.

The Illinois game law now gives protection to cotton tails commencing today. For the first time under the state act, the rabbit season is closed and it will be unlawful to kill rabbits until September 31.

The amendment to the state game law was adopted at last session of the Illinois general assembly. In past years, rabbits could be slaughtered at any time. Under the new law the punishment for killing rabbits is a fine of not less than $15 and costs.

WEST STATE STREET BUSINESS CHANGE IS ANNOUNCED

Boxell & Sons Coffee House Purchased by Vannier China Store—Business Will Be Consolidated and Developed in Both Wholesale and Retail Way—Mr. Vannier Retires From Bank Position.

By a notice in another column it will be seen that D. E. Boxell & Sons have sold the stock of their Coffee House to the Vannier China Store. Possession is to be given at once and Arthur H. Vannier has resigned his position as assistant cashier at the Ayes National bank and will devote his entire time to the business of the Vannier China & Coffee House.

Mr. Boxell established the business 14 months ago and put it on a paying basis from the start. It was his expectation when he started the store to establish a business which his sons would later take over and operate. Subsequently two of the sons decided upon other lines of work and as Mr. Boxell did not wish to give up his position with the hardware firm with which he has been long connected, he determined to dispose of the store and the sale to the Vannier store was consummated Tuesday. The business of the Boxell store has grown in a satisfactory way and will no doubt develop still further under the management of Mr. Vannier. It is their intention to develop it in a wholesale as well as a retail way. The splendid china-ware stock will be used in connection with the coffee department, and the premium tickets issued can be applied to any article in this extensive stock. The goods are of established value and will be offered as heretofore or for premium tickets as the customer may desire. The Boxell stores is to be kept in its present location until about the tenth of the month, while the rearrangement work is in progress at the Vannier store, and then the two departments will be housed in the one room, where the facilities are ample.

Mr. and Mrs. Vannier with business, experience, energy and ample capital have every reason for the expectation that their store will grow continuously. James Pyatt, who has been with the Vannier store since its establishment, is to remain after the consolidation and Fred Mayer, who has been in the Boxell store, will continue his services there under the new management.

Mr. Boxell and family have been residents of Jacksonville for about ten years and during that time have come to occupy a very high place in the opinion of their friends and acquaintances. It is gratifying to know that the sale of the Boxell store does not mean that Jacksonville will lose the family from the community.

BUNDLE OF JOURNALS CATCH ON CARRIAGE STEP

Singular Accident Happens to Papers Being Delivered in Second Ward by Carrier.

A strange accident happened Tuesday morning to one of the Journal carriers which occasioned a delay for more than a hundred subscribers in the second ward in receiving their paper. The carrier left a sack of papers at the corner of Pine and West State street while he walked north on Pine street to deliver papers there. The traveling was so slippery that he thought he could make better progress by leaving the sack on the corner. When he returned the sack was gone. He thought that somebody was playing a trick, and made a careful search in nearby yards, but could get no trace of the missing papers. Then he telephoned to the office and an additional supply was secured and subscribers received their papers shortly after 7 o'clock. A few minutes afterward a phone message from the Wabash station stated that one of the carriage drivers there had a sack of Journals and was at a loss to know how he acquired them. It seems that in turning from State street to Pine the driver was so close to the curbing that the step of the carriage caught in the handle of the paper sack and the sack and contents were dragged all the way to the Wabash station without being discovered. It was a strange accident, one that probably could not happen again in a series of years.

JOHN M. BUTLER MAY BECOME MASTER IN CHANCERY HERE

Rumor Has It That Young Attorney Will be Appointed by Judge Jones to Succeed John F. Clark.

There is a well founded rumor that at the February term of the circuit court a new master in chancery will be appointed. This rumor is to the effect that John F. Clark, who has been master in chancery since the death of Edward McConnell will retire and that Judge Jones will appoint John M. Butler to succeed him.

Mr. Clark has been master for probably twelve years and has been associated with some office in the court house for more than forty years. He was chief deputy circuit clerk under the late John N. Marsh. Later he was elected to the office himself which he held for several terms. After retirement from the circuit clerk's office Mr. Clark was almost immediately appointed master in chancery by Judge Owen P. Thompson which position he has held since.

John M. Butler, the prospective appointee is one of the city's well known young lawyers. Mr. Butler graduated from the Jacksonville high school and from Illinois college. He then graduated in the law course from the University of Michigan. After graduation he took up the practice of law here and has been associated with some important cases. He has proven himself to be an excellent lawyer and his practice has grown steadily.

After hearing the evidence of Mrs. Wharton, sister of the deceased, and that of Dr. W. H. Weirich, the following verdict was returned: "We, the jury, sworn to inquire into the death of Miss Lulu Anderson, on oath do find that the deceased came to her death by cerebral embolism." The jury was that given in the Journal Tuesday morning. The funeral will be held from the Reynolds undertaking parlors this afternoon at 1:30, in charge of the Rev. M. L. Pontius, and interment will be in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Little Editorial

Edited by Myers Bros.

It Is the Wise Buyer Who Looks Forward

It is out of the ordinary for the average consumer to anticipate his wants—he usually waits until such time as the weather necessitates that he is ready to wear them.

The average consumer does not anticipate for the reason presumedly that "his merchant" is a good buyer and that he will give you the advantage of his buy.

We are now placing a great many advance orders for next winter requirements, an unusual proceeding at this early date. However this early buy to "cover up" on a constantly rising market is our protection to you.

This is one part of a service we are constantly striving to give our patrons.

Almost every day we receive correspondence relative to these advancing costs. As an instance a recent letter advising that a staple work garment which is being retailed at 75 cents, would now be worth 94 cents, on futures in wholesale quantities, same being subject to confirmation by wire as supplies were limited at any cost.

Store News

Spring stocks are beginning to arrive, just received a big shipment of Stetson Hats and Society Brand Clothes.

Our salesmen always give them a try on and a critical once over when they first come in and they all admired them very much. It's a trifle early to elaborate on them now but later when we're to tell you about them you'll enthuse just as we have when they first arrived.

Anticipate your Spring needs—BUY NOW AND SAVE MONEY!
